Sykeseguy SWD33 Wow you create a guide that shows everything that a player can learn from standing in the noise lobby. Did you pin the thread yourself to increase it? I created a guide for people who find lobbying to be difficult to understand and want a further overview of the information. Also when this was pinned, I'm not a manager yet, so I'll be able to pin it down cold if you can gather all the information about the exact damage and cool down each move. Testimonials in the game are really, well, not helpful. That will show newer players more what they actually buy.
